Program Synopsis:

Finding common political ground seems to be getting more difficult with each election cycle.

Whether you’re a fan of Mitch McConnell, Paul Ryan, Jim Jordan, Ted Cruz, a question remains, can statesmanship and politicians coexist in America today? This workshop helps to remove the veneer and help foster an understanding between reasonable people. This program helps to facilitate an honest discussing the balance of principles, political motivations, and personal ambitions.